Fine Furniture.

The Ogden State bank has just received word that the new furniture made to order in the cast for their new quarters in the Reed hotel building, is completed. The bank counter is forty-six feet long and seven feet high. The woodwork is all solid manogany while the railing on top is of sand brass, surmounted by makel plated panels and wickets with a bar of mabogany running along the entire length of the fixtures. Set in nickel letters are the words "Paying Teller," Receiving, "Collections," "Bookiceoper" and "Savings" over the windows in which the bank will transact its business. Each department will be divided by handsome railings and a magnificent office will be enclosed for the president and cashler of the bank. The construction of this furniture has consumed two menths time and it will have a very artistic and pleasing appearance. sumed two months time and it will have a very artistic and pleasing appearance when placed in position. The dealing plates on which the money will click, are made of Mexican onyx tignly polished. more serviceable than the comnon plate giass generally used for the pur-pose. When the fixtures arrive a lover of art could easily spend a few hours tooking at the carvings that grace the sides of the counter. The human face, cut in life like beauty from the solid mahogany, stands out so holdly that the modern ideas of carving and decorating are not at all discovering and deccrating are not at all disgusti the observer's eyes. The cost of the furni-ture is said to be close to $3,000, and the Ogden. State bank can well feel proud of the elegant furnishings thay will have in their new quarters.
